

The linguistic master and New York Yankee great Yogi Berra once opined, "It's hard to make predictions, especially about the future."

A few more of his spur of the moment quotes ~

When he saw Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris hit back-to-back home runs, said, "It's déjà vu all over again."

Giving his friend directions to his home, "When you come to a fork in the road, take it."

"You can observe a lot just by watching."

"No one goes there nowadays, it's too crowded."

"A nickel ain't worth a dime anymore."

"Always go to other people's funerals, otherwise they won't come to yours."

"If you don't know where you are going, you might wind up some place else."

"It get's late early out there."

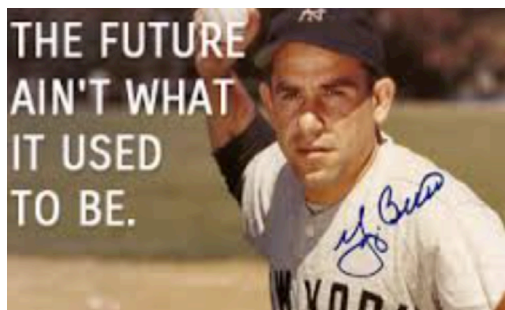

"When you don't know where you are going, any road will do."

"It was impossible to get a conversation going, everybody was talking too much."

"Even Napoleon had his Watergate."

"It ain't the heat, it's the humility."

"I never said most of the things I said."

"Baseball is 90% mental and the other half is physical."

"Never answer an anonymous letter."
